Reflections from IFRIMA President Franck Baron

"As president of IFRIMA, I am proud to share key highlights from the FERMA Forum in Madrid. The forum tackled pressing risks—geopolitical tensions, climate change, cyber threats, and supply chain disruptions—exploring how organisations can adapt, leverage technology, and utilise captives and ESG frameworks to build resilience. These efforts reflect our commitment to empowering the risk community in an increasingly complex and volatile world. Our strategic action plan is fostering local associations in regions like Africa and the Middle East, strengthening the global risk management community.
