

QUARTERLY UPDATE

FEBRUARY 2024

Welcome to the first edition of the IFRIMA Quarterly Update!

This year is already well underway and we're updating all projects, events and research from our member organizations that promise to shape the future of risk and insurance globally. We are privileged to be able to access risk and insurance insights from across the globe. This quarterly bulletin aims to smooth out the creases, connect the dots and foster conversations across the global divide. If your association has something exciting in the near future, please send the Secretariat an email so that your organization is featured in the next edition! You're also welcome to share this email with your membership databases.

Yours in risk and insurance

Event: AIRMIC Fosters Business Excellence

Earlier this month AIRMIC kicked off the 2024 AIRMIC Business Excellence Programme with Module One: The Strategic Dimension.

The group heard from expert speakers Eleanor Winton and Mary O'Connor, exploring topics such as the power of corporate purpose, effective strategic management, and the importance of aligning strategic risk as a business enabler.

Take Part in FERMA's Annual Survey!

FERMA is launching its International Risk Manager Survey expanding beyond Europe to include risk associations from the US, Latin America, Asia Pacific, and Africa.

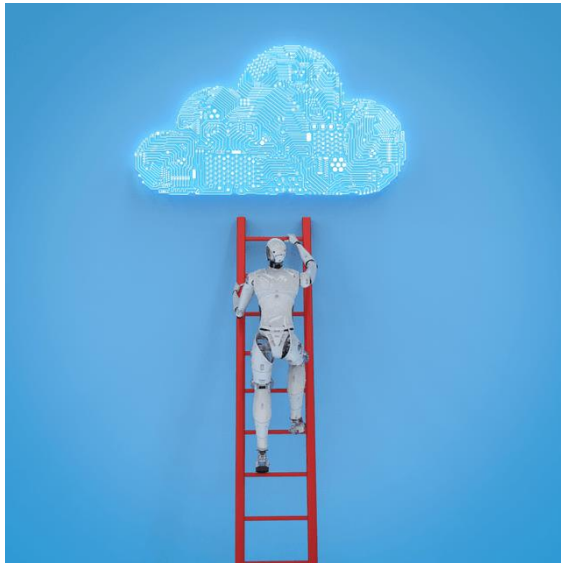

Key areas of focus will include corporate risk strategy, ESG, compliance, risk transfer, sustainability, innovation, and evolving risks such as generative AI. Take part in the survey and contribute to this essential body of research.

Report: AMRAE on Claims Management

AMRAE and Sedgwick collaborated on a comprehensive survey in 2023, targeting 92 AMRAE risk managers.

The aim was to establish a 'Barometer of Damage Claims Management,' shedding light on the current practices and needs within this crucial domain. Please note, the report is currently only available in French.
